CLFN Economic Development Corporation - Call for Board Members

The CLFN Economic Development Corporation is a not-for-profit entity that was established to bring together business and community development minded experts with a strong knowledge in business and finance.

In 2012, the Economic Development Committee made a commitment to revive our First Nation's Economic Development Corporation. In order to accomplish this goal the Committee set out to: file Articles of Continuance for the Corporation; Re-establish a new Board of Directors; and Access resources needed to operate the Corporation.

Recently, our First Nation has been approached by developers and private business people who wish to engage in a variety of business development opportunities with us. These opportunities and others must be evaluated in a strategic manner by those with the appropriate qualifications. Therefore, CLFN Economic Development Committee is issuing this call and is seeking individuals for Board Membership.

Responsibilities of the Board Member include, but are not limited to:

- Examine business development proposals assertively, knowledgeably, and purposefully;
- Be responsible for adopting new policies and amending existing policy;
- Understand the balance between the Board's role and that of management; and
- Must conduct themselves in an honest manner, in good faith and in the best interests of the CLFN community
- Sufficient time to devote to the Board's operations
- Put forward ideas while respecting the views of others

Qualifications:

- Must be a CLFN member;
- Must have broad business and or professional experience, with an understanding of business and financial affairs, and complexities of business organizations;
- Must be in good financial standing with Curve Lake First Nation; and
- Must have superior communication skills.
