Archaeology and Ancient Peoples of the Kawartha Lakes

As part of the Curve Lake Speaker Series

JAMES CONOLLY

Wed Dec 2nd, 2015

Dinner: 5:00 PM

Session: 6:00PM

Community Centre

James Conolly is Professor of Archaeology at Trent University, where he teaches and studies archaeology and environmental science. He was born in the UK and came to Canada in the 1970s with his parents as a boy. He returned to England to go to university and over the next fifteen years studied and worked on archaeological projects in Greece, Turkey, Syria, and the United Kingdom. He returned to Peterborough in 2004, and began to focus on the Kawartha Lakes region and its rich archaeological and cultural history. He is particularly interested in ancient population history, especially the periods around 1000 years ago when the first villages appear in this region. One of his priorities is working with First Nations and ensuring that archaeology and archaeological sites, especially burial locations, are better documented and protected from development and destruction in this area.

The catered dinner will start at 5:00 PM for those who attend.

Limited to 75 seats. For more information on the Speaker Series, please contact Melissa Dokis at 705-657-8045 or email MelissaD@curvelake.ca
